

① Expression of The prophet Muhammad (saw)

Muhammad (saw) was born in 570 in Mecca, to a single mother whose husband died before she gave birth. Muhammed (saw) was of noble blood, He returned to his mother, Amina, who took him to visit his father's grave, but on the return journey she fell dangerously ill. Muhammad (saw) went to live with his grand father Abdul Muttalib, and spent two happy years with him. Later he would become renowned for his honest dealing with people in business and trade. Khadijah and Muhammad's (saw) Marriage was a happy, God had chosen Muhammad (saw) as his final messenger. Muhammad (saw) had a great task ahead of him. In preaching God's word, he would come face to face with rejection, abuse, humiliation and even banishment from his own people. He eradicate racism, encourage them in acts of charity, protect those the vulnerable, abolish the rigid class system, raise the status of women to an honoured position, and bring everyone back to the belief in one God.